

CITY NOTES.

Mrs. Lucy B. Ralston, of 3431 Lucas Avenue, has returned from an extended vacation of three months and has resumed her classes in piano and theory. Mrs. Ralston's reputation as an earnest and thorough teacher is not confined to St. Louis.

August Meyer, of 1220 Park Ave., who is a leading teacher of the zither, is now perfecting a chromatic system of stringing that instrument, which enables the performer to play piano music without any changing and with great facility, a feat hitherto hard to accomplish. By this improvement, classical music, as well as popular airs, songs, dances, etc., will be easily surmounted. Mr. Meyer has likewise had the greatest success with the so-called Quinten Zither.

August William Hoffmann's popular compositions, "Pearl Gavotte" and "Valse d'Amour," which created a stir here during Gilmore's engagement, will be played by Gilmore's band on their tour throughout the country; their success is already decided.

Mrs. Samuel Highleyman gave a musicale in honor of her sister Mrs. Homer Curtis Potter, of Des Moines, Ia. She was assisted by Mrs. Broadbudd, Mrs. Huntington Smith, Mrs. B. Mc Nair Ilgenfritz, Mrs. Dorsheimer and Gage and Mrs. Frank Waters.

Mrs. Rhodes recently arrived from Kansas City was heard at the Balmer & Weber Hall. She is said to have been offered the position of soprano at the Second Baptist Church, but her acceptance is not announced. The position pays six hundred dollars.

The K. J. B. Ladies' Quartette, has reason to be proud of the compliment paid it by Gilmore who insisted on having it sing on several occasions at the Exposition. According to Gilmore's idea, the quartette ought to be named "The K. J. B. Ladies Diamond Quartette" since he called the ladies of which it is composed four diamonds.

Miss B. Mahan, the efficient organist of the Grand Avenue Baptist Church and teacher of the organ at the Beethoven Conservatory, was for years one of the best known and most capable organists of the South. She had charge of Dr. Palmer's church, which contains the largest organ in the South. Mrs. Mahan has numerous testimonials which speak in high terms of her worth and efficiency. She has taught successfully the past years at the Beethoven Conservatory, and many of her pupils are now filling responsible positions in churches.

CITY NOTES.

The Beethoven Mandolin and Guitar orchestra is expecting a busy season. It is replete with the latest novelties. This orchestra has attended most of the large receptions the past season, and highly pleased its patrons. The mandolin is coming into great favor. It is a grateful instrument, and comparatively easy to master. Mr. H. B. Mubrennan, of 2649 Olive, is one of its best exponents in the city, and has taught with admirable results during the past years.

Miss Agnes Gray the well known violinist is prepared to receive pupils at her address 2546 Olive street and is open for concert engagements. She is also engaged at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, and at the Western Conservatory of music, 2645 Olive St.

W. M. Porteous has been engaged to sing the part of "Armenius" in Max Bruche's work of that name for the Toronto Philharmonic Society in December. The other soloists are Mme. Anna Bulkley Hills, of New York, Contralto, and George J. Parker, of Boston, Tenor.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

The program of the music at the ceremony of the distribution of prizes awarded at the Paris Exposition is as follows: before the arrival of the President of the Republic, Saint-Saens' "Marche Héroïque;" on his arrival, the "Marseillaise;" during the defile of the groups, the "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust," Berlioz's "Symphonie Triomphale," and the march from the first act of "Hamlet;" between the two official speeches, "Lux," cantata by Godard; at the termination of the ceremony by the finale of the first act of Massenet's "Roi de Lahore." Each series of proclamations of prizes will be preceded by a fanfare (trumpet blasts) expressly composed by Leo Delibes. The orchestra and chorus, numbering 800 performers, will be under the direction of M. Garcin, chef d'orchestre of the Conservatory.

What You Need Spring and Fall

WHEN you feel "all run down" is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For restoring strength after sickness, or toning up the system at any time, this is the medicine of all others. Don't waste time and money on worthless compounds, whatever their pretensions; but remember that Ayer's has been the standard Sarsaparilla for nearly half a century and has no equal.

"Sometime ago I found my system entirely run down. I had a feeling of constant fatigue and languor and very little ambition for any kind of effort. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did with the best results. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used."—Frank Mellows, Chelsea, Mass.

"I was all run down before I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and now I am gaining in strength every day."—Mrs. Alice West, Jefferson, W. Va.

"I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla for several years. When I feel weary and worn out, it always helps me."—A. Grommet, Kingsville, Johnson Co., Mo.

"I was long troubled with nervous debility and severe headaches. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I have been restored to health."—Anthony Louis, 55 Tremont st., Charlestown, Mass.

"As a safe and reliable spring and family medicine, I think are always trying seasons to most constitutions, and unless the blood is purified and enriched, one becomes exposed to a variety of maladies. To make good blood, nothing is so effectual as Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most celebrated tonic alterative in existence. Try it.

"I have found great relief from general debility in the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood."—H. D. Johnson, Jr., 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-deserved reputation in this locality for restoring to healthy, vigorous action the vital organs when they have become weakened or exhausted. I have used it in my family for this purpose, especially after the system has become depleted from malarial attacks. I have advised its use among my neighbors in similar cases, and it has always proved invaluable."—C. C. Hamilton, Emberson, Tex.

"As a blood-purifier and general builder-up of the system, I have never found anything to equal Ayer's Sar-sarsaparilla invaluable."—Wm. R. Ferree, 1 Chatham st., Boston, Mass.

Made by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

It gives perfect satisfaction."—Eugene I. Hill, M. D., 381 Sixth ave., N. Y.

PIANO DUET.

8. MELNOTTE-LUTZ. Lauterbach Waltz, with Variations.

SONGS.

9. MEYER-HELMUND, ERIK. Warning (Warning).
10. SULLIVAN, ARTHUR. The Lost Chord (Der Verlorene Accord).

THE CHORAL SOCIETY.

"The Damnation of Faust" a cantata by Berlioz, will be given at the first concert of the Choral Society. The soloists will be Mme. Adelaide Mullen as Marguerite, Mr. Henry Beaumont as Faust and Mr. William Ludwig as Mephistopheles. Mme. Adelaide Mullen is reported a true exponent of English Oratorio with a voice, sympathetic and of great range. She is well known in England where she is in constant demand; her husband Mr. Henry Beaumont is likewise well known being a leading tenor of the Carl Rosa Opera Co. Mr. Ludwig is a favorite here, having been heard with the late American Opera Co. Mr. Joseph Otten the conductor has worked indefatigably with the chorus and it is in excellent trim. Altogether a great success is predicted.

THE CONGRESSES.

Two congresses of patrons of sacred music were recently held in Europe. One at Bressanone, in the Austrian Tyrol, was attended by nearly 1,000 delegates from Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France; the other, of local character, united at Soave (near Verona, Italy), and called together seventy-two organists and maestri di cappella from all parts of Italy. In both congresses topics of interest, touching on the future of sacred music were discussed and measures were taken to the end of elevating the standard of the music performed in the house of divine worship throughout the continent.

The program of the concert given at Bressanone to the members of the Congress comprised a Mass by Mitterer for five voices, a motetto for five voices by Orlando de Lasso and the motetto "Cum Complanentur" for six voices by Palestrina. At Soave a recital was given by Signor Carlo Bossi, organist of the cathedral of Como, with the following program: Toccata and fugue in C major by Bach, fugue in A flat major by Brahms, Scherzo in A by Beethoven, Andante in B major by Franck, and a Fantasia by Bossi, originally written for two performers transcribed for one.

SCHUBERT.

BY ARCHDEACON FARRAR.

Schubert again sadly illustrates the struggles of musicians. He was born in 1797, at Lichtenthal, near Vienna, where his father was a poor school-master. When he was seven years old, an apprentice, who was his friend, took him to a piano-forte warehouse, and here the bent of his genius became so evident, that he was placed under a musician named Holzer. Holzer soon, however, found that there was nothing which he could teach to the gifted boy. "Whenever I wished to teach him anything," he said "I found that he had already mastered it."

He had a fine voice, and, at the age of eleven, he became a chorister in the Imperial Chapel, in spite of the fact that the other competitors were so amused by his curious and humble dress that they called him "the miller's son." But at seventeen his voice broke, and there seemed to be no other career open to him than to become a school-master like his father.

The Schuberts were very poor. In one of his letters he begs a few kreuzers from his brother, and says "You know by experience that a fellow would take a roll, or an apple or two, especially if, after a frugal dinner, he has to wait for a meagre supper for eight hours and a half."

Poor Schubert had the often irritable temper of genius, and was wholly unsuited for the patient drudgery of teaching the alphabet and the first rules of arithmetic. After three years, in 1816, the admiration of a friend, named von Schobor, gave him an asylum, and this was all the more fortunate because he had sometimes given way to bursts of temper, and had chastised the school-children with over-severity.

The year before, he had written his marvellous setting of Goethe's Erlkönig. The publishers would not have it even as a gift, and, indeed, his relations with his publishers were always unfortunate, although when they did publish his music they sometimes made thousands of pounds by it.

Schubert continued poor all his life. For some of his songs he was only paid ten-pence. He probably never enjoyed more than a hundred pounds a year. He was unfortunate, too, in love, for he loved the daughter of Count Esterhazy, whom it was impossible that he should ever wed. It should be said, however, that this story rests on very insufficient evidence. No doubt his difficulties were increased by his shyness, reserve, careless mode of living, and extreme irritability. When he was trying for the post of conductor of a theatre in 1820, the prima donna found that she simply could not sing the principal air of the opera he had written. Every one entreated him to modify it a little; but, closing his book with a bang, he exclaimed, "I alter nothing!" and strode away.

His life was unhappy, and only momentary gleams of prosperity diversified its general monotony of gloom. In 1823 he wrote, "I feel myself the most unhappy man on earth. Picture to yourself a man whose health can never be re-established who, from sheer despair, makes matters worse instead of better, whose most brilliant hopes have come to nothing, to whom the happiness of proffered love and friendship is but anguish, whose enthusiasm for the beautiful threatens to vanish altogether, and then ask yourself if such is not a miserable man?"

"Mein Ruh ist hin, mein Herz ist schwer, Ich finde sie nimmer und nimmer mehr."

Later his pecuniary worries were intensified by pains in the head, and by yielding unduly to the crave for drink. He became liable to delusion, and died in 1828, at the early age of thirty-one. He left so little at his death, that two concerts had to be given to defray the expenses of his funeral.

One of the most beautiful inspirations of Schubert is given in this number.

RICHARD WAGNER'S APPRECIATION OF AMERICAN INDUSTRY.

Mr. S. B. Mills, the distinguished pianist and musician, who has just returned from Europe, described the enthusiasm at the recent Wagner performances in Bayreuth and takes occasion to compliment this country upon its extraordinary musical growth during the last few years, especially in its appreciation of Wagner.

It may be interesting to know that the great composer was quite well informed as to his growing popularity in this country and often referred to it. He also greatly appreciated our wonderful progress in all industries, and especially in the manufacture of piano-fortes. The eminent piano-makers of New York, Messrs. George Steck & Co., hold a letter from Richard Wagner, in which he speaks in the following eulogistic terms of one of their Grands, which was in his home at Bayreuth:

"The fine Grand Piano of George Steck & Co., of New York, which I have obtained, is everywhere acknowledged to be excellent. My great friend, Franz Liszt, expressed the liveliest satisfaction after he had played upon it. The magnificent instrument has taken up its useful abode in my home, where it will ever serve for my pleasant entertainment."

This piano Herr Wagner used during the last ten years of his life, and it is now treasured by his family as one of the most cherished mementoes the great master has left behind him in his sanctum at Bayreuth.

CITY NOTES.

Mrs. W. M. Porteous has gone to Scotland.

A. J. Epstein is on the board of examiners for the M. T. N. A. for 1889-90.

Mrs. Louie A. Peebles has been engaged as soprano of the Temple, 21st and Olive.

Prof. Geo. Jarvis has taken charge of the vocal department of the St. Louis Seminary, at St. Louis Station.

Mrs. Georgie Lee Cunningham was on the programme of a musicale given by Council No. 6, Legion of Honor.

Mrs. Louie A. Peebles will sing at a musicale and reception to be given at Judge McKeigan's house on the 8th inst.

The Hatton Quartette, upon the return of Fred Spech will give a very fine concert. Mr. Spech will assist in the programme.

Aug. Halter, organist of the Second Baptist Church had the assistance of Cox, the flute soloist of Gilmore's band at two services.

Miss Clara Stubblefield, of 2711 Lucas Ave., is hard at work; she has a large class and is recognized as one of our foremost teachers.

Aug. Rosen, organist of the Third Congregational Church is looking for a basso. There will be no change in the choir the coming season.

Now that the Exposition has closed too much credit for its grand success can not be given to Mr. George Mills, the energetic superintendent.

Miss Lily Gavin is singing at the Synagogue, 17th & Pine. Mrs. Mattie Hardy is alto, Mr. Humphrey, tenor, Mr. Porteous, base and A. J. Epstein, organist.

The Self-Improvement Club, Mrs. F. Pond, president, Mrs. Walter S. Bartley, vice-president, held its first meeting on the 22d ult. at Mrs. Bartley's home.

Christ Church Cathedral gave a sacred concert at which Le Febvre of Gilmore's band assisted. The concert was free and over a thousand people were turned away.

Miss Mamie Nothhelfer, of 1806 Oregon Ave., is one of our very excellent and painstaking teachers, and has met with the most flattering success in her classes.

It is rumored that a winter season of comic opera will be inaugurated at Uhrig's Cave under the management of Mr. Bell. The principals will include Phil. Branson, Macrery and Misses Patti and Freda Stone.

Miss Lottie Gerak's first appearance will be in Music Hall on the 20th inst. She will have the assistance of the best local talent, Mrs. Oscar Bollman, Mrs. Louie A. Peebles and the Mendelssohn Quintet Club.

Harry Walker gave a house-warming in his new apartments on Olive street. The Hatton Quartette, Messrs. Porteous, Wiseman, McDonald and many others were present and installed the host with mirth and song.

Victor Ehling's pupil, Geo. Vieh, Jr., has passed a successful examination at Vienna, and received a high compliment, inasmuch as only a three years' course is required of him, whereas four years is the usual course of study.

At a recent Concert, at Scranton, Pa., Fred. Victor Hoffmann played, with pronounced success, a violin composition, "Les Adieux," (in MSS.), written by his talented brother, Aug. William Hoffmann, of the Beethoven Conservatory.

Miss Minnie Gilmore was to have been tendered a "Daisy Dinner" by Mrs. Willis Howe of the Lindell, but owing to a sudden illness of Mrs. P. S. Gilmore it was recalled. The Daisy was Miss Gilmore's choice for the National flower.

Wayman McCreery has written a very creditable composition entitled Blow, bugle, blow, the words from Tennyson's well known bugle song. It will be brought out by Gilmore's Band the coming season and will make a pronounced hit.

J. A. Kieselhorst made quite a hit at the Exposition where he played with the solo flutist of Gilmore's Band, Mr. Cox, his flute duo, "Home, Sweet Home," with concert variations. He might have surprised Gilmore but not ourselves, for Mr. Kieselhorst is widely known here as a composer and flutist and deserved the double encore given him.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

The family of Richard Wagner, on September 2d, received $13,000, which represent the author's rights in the receipts of the recent Wagner festival at Bayreuth, Germany.

"Ah, Heaven preserve us from interesting music, there is only one kind of music—beautiful music. If it is not beautiful it is not music. Heaven deliver us, too, from those pedants of theorists, those pretentious mediocrities who have picked up the rags of incompetence in order to make a flag for themselves, and who raise such a fuss over their hollow, empty productions, absolutely void of fire, brilliance, sincerity, or generosity, heartless, soulless, formless, painted skeletons, without flesh or blood."

GOUNOD.

Hulbert Bros., of 923 Olive St., are saving their cash customers a great deal of money on pianos by giving them regular wholesale prices. New uprights range from $150.00 to $300.00, according to grade.

A Rare Cornet-Player.—Cecil Clay, husband of the actress, Resina Vokes, was complaining the other day of the towns embraced in all Illinois amusement circuit. He pronounced them very bad, and said: "In one place we went to the theater and found only the cornet-player in the orchestra. After waiting awhile I asked him where the other musicians were. 'Oh, they're playing up at the ball,' he replied. I then asked if he was to play for us all alone, and he informed me that such was the fact. 'Well,' said I, 'you must be a great cornet-player—you must be the greatest in the world in your line.' He fingered the keys of his instrument, looked at me a moment, and then said: "Oh, no, I'm not much of a cornet-player; if I was worth a — I'd be playing up at the ball, too."

Mr. W. S. B. Matthews of Chicago will deliver lectures every week during the winter to the teachers' class of the American Conservatory.

Mr. Frank Conover started on an extended tour to visit Chicago, Quincy, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Washington and Philadelphia.

We call the especial attention of all that are interested in art stained glass to the card of J. B. Meisinger in another column. Persons desiring artistic stained glass work for reception, hall or dining rooms, etc., should call on him ere placing their order anywhere else.

Allegro ma non troppo. ♩-100 ♩-132.

First system of Etude XVIII, marked mf. The right hand plays a continuous eighth-note pattern with various fingerings, while the left hand provides harmonic support with chords and single notes.

Second system of Etude XVIII, marked f. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern, and the left hand features more active bass lines with eighth-note runs.

Third system of Etude XVIII, marked mf. The right hand has a complex eighth-note pattern, and the left hand includes a section marked "ten." (tension) with sustained chords.

Fourth system of Etude XVIII, marked f. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern, and the left hand has a more active bass line with eighth-note runs.

Fifth system of Etude XVIII, marked f. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern, and the left hand has a more active bass line with eighth-note runs.

The musical score for the piano introduction of 'L'Espresso' by Debussy is written for piano. It begins with a treble and bass clef, a key signature of two flats (B-flat major), and a 3/4 time signature. The tempo is marked 'moderato'. The score consists of two staves. The right hand plays a complex, flowing melody with many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, often beamed together. The left hand provides a supporting bass line with longer notes and some chords. The dynamics are marked 'p' (piano) and 'f' (forte). The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, ties, and fingerings. The piece is in the key of B-flat major and 3/4 time.

The image shows a musical score for a piano introduction and a waltz section. The score is written for piano (p) and includes fingerings and dynamics. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats) and the time signature is 3/4. The score is divided into two main sections: a piano introduction and a waltz section. The piano introduction is marked with a piano (p) dynamic and features a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The waltz section is marked with a forte (ff) dynamic and features a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and fingerings.

Repeat each exercise from 8 to 12 times.

Preliminary exercises. ♩ - 88 ♩ - 120.

First system of preliminary exercises for the Eb major scale. It consists of four measures, each with a treble and bass staff. The first measure shows ascending and descending eighth-note patterns with fingerings 1-2-3-4 and 4-3-2-1. The second measure continues with similar patterns, adding a fifth finger. The third and fourth measures show more complex patterns with slurs and fingerings.

Scale of Eb major.

Second system of the Eb major scale, measures 5-8. It continues the ascending and descending patterns with fingerings, ending with a double bar line.

Harmonic minor scale of Eb.

First system of the Eb harmonic minor scale, measures 1-4. It features the characteristic augmented second interval between the sixth and seventh degrees, with fingerings 1-2-3-4 and 4-3-2-1.

Melodic minor scale of Eb.

Second system of the Eb melodic minor scale, measures 5-8. It continues the ascending and descending patterns with fingerings, ending with a double bar line.

ETUDE XIX.

Allegro brillante. ♩ - 88 ♩ - 120.

First system of Etude XIX, measures 1-16. The piece is in Eb major, 2/4 time. It begins with a forte (f) dynamic. The first four measures feature a rapid ascending and descending eighth-note pattern in the right hand, while the left hand plays a simple bass line. The next four measures continue this pattern with more complex fingerings. The final eight measures show a variety of rhythmic patterns, including triplets and sixteenth notes, with a crescendo leading to a final forte (f) dynamic. The piece ends with a double bar line and a small asterisk.

First system of musical notation, measures 1-4. Treble and bass staves with complex fingerings and a "Ped." marking.

Second system of musical notation, measures 5-8. Treble and bass staves with complex fingerings.

Third system of musical notation, measures 9-12. Treble and bass staves with complex fingerings.

Fourth system of musical notation, measures 13-16. Treble and bass staves with complex fingerings and a "p" marking.

Fifth system of musical notation, measures 17-20. Treble and bass staves with complex fingerings and a "mf" marking.

Sixth system of musical notation, measures 21-24. Treble and bass staves with complex fingerings and a "pesante" marking.

Two systems of musical notation for a piano piece. Each system consists of a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The first system includes fingerings (1, 2, 3), slurs, and a first-octave trill (8^a). The second system continues the piece with similar notation. Rehearsal marks are indicated by asterisks and the word "Red." below the staff.

Var: II. Con gusto. (with taste.)

Two systems of musical notation for a piano piece. The first system includes a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic marking and a sequence of Roman numerals (I through XII) indicating a 12-measure count. The second system includes piano (p) and mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic markings. Rehearsal marks are indicated by asterisks and the word "Red." below the staff.

* Count 12 eighths as indicated by roman figures.

SECONDO.

Intermezzo. (Interlude.) Con agitazione. (agitated.)

The musical score is written for piano and consists of four systems of staves. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 6/8. The music is characterized by rapid, intricate passages in the right hand, often featuring triplets and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a steady accompaniment with eighth and sixteenth notes. Dynamics include mf (mezzo-forte), f (forte), and rf (ritardando-forte). Fingerings and articulation marks are present throughout. The score concludes with a double bar line and the word Red. followed by two asterisks.

Var: III. Con allegrezza. (cheerful.)

First system of Variation III. The music is in 12/8 time, marked p (piano). The right hand features a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand plays a steady eighth-note accompaniment. The system concludes with a repeat sign. Below the staff, the word "Red." is written under the first measure, and asterisks mark the first, third, and fifth measures.

Second system of Variation III. The musical notation continues from the first system, maintaining the 12/8 time and p dynamic. The right hand's pattern continues with some variation in the final measures. The system ends with a repeat sign. Below the staff, "Red." is written under the first measure, and asterisks mark the first, third, and fifth measures.

Var: IV. dolce. (sweetly.)

First system of Variation IV. The music is in 12/8 time, marked dolce (sweetly). The right hand features a melodic line with a slur and a fermata. The left hand provides a simple accompaniment. The system concludes with a repeat sign. Below the staff, "Red." is written under the first measure, and asterisks mark the first, third, and fifth measures.

Second system of Variation IV. The musical notation continues from the first system. The right hand features more complex melodic figures with slurs and fingerings (e.g., 4, 2, 1, 2, 3, 4). The left hand continues its accompaniment. The system ends with a repeat sign. Below the staff, "Red." is written under the first measure, and asterisks mark the first, third, and fifth measures.

Var: III. Con allegrezza. (cheerful.) PRIMO.

First system of musical notation for Variation III, Primo. It consists of a grand staff with two staves. The right staff has a treble clef and a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The left staff has a bass clef and the same key signature. The time signature is 12/8. The right staff contains a complex melodic line with many eighth and sixteenth notes, including triplets and sixteenth-note runs. The left staff contains a simpler accompaniment line with quarter and eighth notes. There are fingerings (1, 2, 3, 4) and breath marks (x) above the right staff. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

Second system of musical notation for Variation III, Primo. It continues the grand staff from the first system. The right staff continues the complex melodic line with similar rhythmic patterns. The left staff continues the accompaniment. There are fingerings and breath marks above the right staff. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

Third system of musical notation for Variation III, Primo. It continues the grand staff. The right staff features a melodic line with eighth-note runs and triplets. The left staff continues the accompaniment. There are fingerings and breath marks above the right staff. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

Fourth system of musical notation for Variation III, Primo. It continues the grand staff. The right staff has a melodic line with eighth-note runs and triplets. The left staff continues the accompaniment. There are fingerings and breath marks above the right staff. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

Var: IV.

First system of musical notation for Variation IV. It consists of a grand staff with two staves. The right staff has a treble clef and a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The left staff has a bass clef and the same key signature. The time signature is 12/8. The right staff contains a melodic line with eighth-note runs and triplets. The left staff contains a simple accompaniment line. The word "dolce. (sweetly.)" is written below the left staff. There are fingerings and breath marks above the right staff. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

Second system of musical notation for Variation IV. It continues the grand staff from the first system. The right staff continues the melodic line with eighth-note runs and triplets. The left staff continues the simple accompaniment. There are fingerings and breath marks above the right staff. The system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

This image shows a page of musical notation, likely for a piano or organ piece. The notation is arranged in six systems, each consisting of two staves. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats). The music features complex rhythmic patterns, including sixteenth and thirty-second notes, often beamed together. Dynamic markings include 'f' (forte), 'cres' (crescendo), 'rf con forza. (with vigor.)' (rassando con forza), and 'ff' (fortissimo). There are also articulation marks such as 'Red.' (likely 'Reduction' or 'Reduction') and asterisks (*) indicating specific points of interest or performance techniques. The notation includes various musical symbols like slurs, ties, and fingerings (e.g., 1, 2, 3, 4). The overall style is characteristic of 19th-century musical notation.

Grande Finale.

The first system of musical notation for the piano part. It consists of a grand staff with a treble and bass clef. The treble staff contains dense, rapid sixteenth-note passages. The bass staff contains a more rhythmic accompaniment with dotted notes and rests. A forte dynamic marking 'f' is present in the treble staff. Below the bass staff, there are several measures of music with asterisks and the word 'Red.' indicating specific performance instructions.

The second system of musical notation for the piano part. It continues the dense sixteenth-note passages in the treble staff and the rhythmic accompaniment in the bass staff. The dynamic remains forte. Below the bass staff, there are several measures of music with asterisks and the word 'Red.' indicating specific performance instructions.

The third system of musical notation for the piano part. It continues the dense sixteenth-note passages in the treble staff and the rhythmic accompaniment in the bass staff. A forte dynamic marking 'f' is present in the treble staff. Below the bass staff, there are several measures of music with asterisks and the word 'Red.' indicating specific performance instructions.

The fourth system of musical notation for the piano part. It continues the dense sixteenth-note passages in the treble staff and the rhythmic accompaniment in the bass staff. The system includes dynamic markings 'ff', 'rit:', 'a tempo.', and 'ff'. Below the bass staff, there are several measures of music with asterisks and the word 'Red.' indicating specific performance instructions. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The German opera season at the Metropolitan Opera House will consist of fifty subscription nights and seventeen matinees, beginning on the 27th of November and ending March 22. The chief artists engaged are Frau Lehmann, Frau Sonntag-Uhl, a contralto new to this country; Herr Heinrich Vogel, the noted Wagnerian tenor; Herr Perotti, Herr Reichmann, the baritone, and Herr Fischer. Mlle. Urbanska, a new dancer, will lead the ballet. Herr Seidl will be the conductor, and Mr. Walter Damrosch the assistant conductor. Lalo's "Le Roi d'Ys" will be the chief novelty of the season. "Otello," "La Gioconda" and "Norma" may be given, and a ballet known as "Die Puppenfee."

The Union Electrical Construction Co., consulting engineers and contractors with offices at 812 North Eleventh Street, will open this month with the largest and best assorted stock of Electric and Combination Fixtures in the market. It makes a specialty of wiring of fine residences, stores, buildings etc., for electric lights. Correspondence is solicited.

Soft Shell Crabs and Lobsters served at Milford's Ladies' and Gents' Dining Parlors, 207 and 209 North Sixth.

The London "Musical World" has offered three prizes to British and American competitors for three separate settings of the Nicene Creed, with a view to the more accurate expression of its meaning, and so avoiding the errors of past accentuation.

Gounod the veteran composer of "Faust," is a sympathetic mannered man of a sentimental turn of mind, with the softest of smiling blue eyes, and a full beard of old gold streaked with gray. He is given to posing on occasion, and there is just the slightest touch of affectation in his manner, but this soon disappears on acquaintance, and he has a great horror of anything cold or stiff. He is always lively and generally full of new ideas, and he is fond of indulging in metaphors. Despite his intense religiousness, he is not a profound thinker, yet he wears a seal-skin cap and a fur collar. He is seventy-one, and France is, as she ought to be, proud of him.

Reinecke.—A violin pupil of Herr Brodsky, Miss McLaren, of the Leipzig Conservatory, writes to a Buffalo friend as follows: "I have wondered if the reason that Reinecke writes such attractive music for children is because he has had so much experience with them. There is a legend here to the effect that when a child is found, the policeman goes to Reinecke to ascertain if it is his, whereupon Reinecke sends to have his children numbered to discover if one is missing."

A grand concert given by the best musical talent of Austin, Tex., for the benefit of the Confederate Home, came off at Millett's opera house. Mrs. Cecilia Townsend played Weber's concerto, for piano. The second act of Weber's word-renowned opera "Der Freischuetz" was also rendered.

The campaign of "Otello" in London, in spite of the great success of Tamagno and Maurel, has proved a financial failure. It was given twelve times with a total deficit of $32,000.

Genelli, is making the finest colored Pastels and Crayons and Rembrandt cabinets in the city. Cabinets range from $1.50 to $8.00 per dozen, and life-size portraits from $5 to $10.00.

Fursch-Madi.—The suit of Mme. Fursch-Madi against the National Conservatory of Music has been settled through a compromise. The sum involved was between $11,000 and $12,000, and the payment of one-quarter of the amount due led to the abandonment of further proceedings.

Explain it as we may, a martial strain will urge a man into the front of rank of battle sooner than an argument, and a fine anthem excite his devotion more certainly than a logical discourse.

William Steinway of Steinway & Sons contributed $50,000 to the World's Fair Fund.

A good ear for music and a taste for music are two very different things, which are often confounded; and so is comprehending and enjoying every object of sense and sentiment. GREVILLE.

C. L. Capen has been succeeded as critic of the Boston Home Journal by Mr. Philip Hale, brother of Rev. Edward Hale.

Dr. Hans Von Bulow is engaged for a series of twenty concerts to be given in New York, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Baltimore and Philadelphia, commencing about the 20th of March, 1890.

Liebling.—Mr. Emil Liebling has received a diploma of "Honorable Mention" from the International Musical Exposition, held at Bologna, Italy, for his Piano Compositions.

Sembrich, the accomplished singer in the Italian school, has yielded to the pressure of German music and is studying the role of "Elsa" in "Lohengrin," in expectation of soon singing it at Berlin.

Mr. Walter J. Damrosch, the young musical composer and conductor, it is reported, is to be married to Miss Margaret Blaine, daughter of Secretary Blaine, in the near future. Miss Blaine is a highly accomplished young lady of 24 years, and, it is said, bears a striking resemblance to her father. The young musician met his fiancée at Bar Harbor, and fell in love with her. After a proper time he made known his wishes to the parents and they gave their consent.

Mr. P. S. Gilmore has appointed Mr. Chas. Pratt as accompanist and director of the vocal forces in the concert tour of the famous band which commenced at the termination of his engagement at the St. Louis Exposition, and will extend across the continent to San Francisco and back to New York. A better selection could not have been made.

Herr Gustav Lange, whose death was recently chronicled was known throughout Germany, and also to a certain extent in England and America, as a prolific composer, of light piano forte pieces. He was born at Erfurt in 1830, and it is said that the number of his compositions exceeded five hundred. A series of eighteen pieces, entitled "Les Aquarelles," were among those which attained enormous success. Herr Lange also transcribed several of Schubert's lieder, and a quantity of operatic music; and he was likewise the composer of more serious works, including a quintet for wind instruments.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

MR. NIKISCH.

Mr. Nikisch of the Boston Symphony Orchestra says: "It will be my effort in arranging my concerts to encourage young American composers. I believe that there is a great deal of musical talent in this country, and I think that it ought to be brought out. There is nothing that helps a composer so much as a public performance of his compositions, for he is able thereby to stand apart from his own work and criticise it from the point of view of the unprejudiced critic. I do not as yet know the works of many of your writers of music, but I heard a great deal about them from my friend Mr. Preston of Boston, whom I saw a great deal of in Leipsic last year. He spoke very highly of some American composers." This is beginning in the right direction, Mr. Nikisch could not have done a more judicious act to popularize himself with American musicians. The Indicator says: "Mr. Nikisch conducts without music or even a music stand. He stands high above the level of his forces and conducts them by crisp and nervous gesture, not at all demonstrative, in the face of the audience. His figure is slender, almost boyish, his face delicately chiseled; but neither the play of his features nor of his hands and arms are for the public. His business is wholly with the music in hand and his knowledge of the score and sympathetic appreciation of its spirit seems absolute. He acknowledges applause with a modest bow, and though entirely self-possessed he seemed to be astonished at his personal triumph."

Snipe on Toast, Milford's Ladies' and Gents' Dining Parlors, 207 and 209 North Sixth.

Strategy.—Photographer—"My dear sir, can't you assume a more smiling countenance and throw off that jaded look?" Rev. V. V. Heighon—"Take me as I am. I need a vacation this summer, and these pictures are for distribution among my parishioners."

SONNENFELD'S — 815, 816 — North Broadway — 819, 821 — SONNENFELD'S.

The well known firm of Lyon and Healy has dissolved. Mr. Geo. W. Lyon voluntarily retiring. His interest has been taken by the remaining partners, who will continue the business in all its branches under the old name and with the same amount of capital.

You spoke of refreshment, my Emilie; take my last notes, sit down to my piano here, sing them with the hymn of your sainted mother. Let me hear once more those notes which have so long been my solacement and delight.

MOZART'S DYING WORDS.

Madame Albani who is now in England will appear in the United States in two new roles, Desdemona and Valentine in "Huguenots." She leaves for New York by the Etruria, November 23d.

Single numbers of the REVIEW cost one dollar; yearly subscription, twelve numbers three dollars.

A bye-law at Weimar, it is said, has been passed that nobody shall play at a pianoforte with the windows open. Considering that "German bands" also are not tolerated in Germany, what a delightful residence must Weimar be for persons with sensitive ears!

It would seem that the pianoforte is falling into disrepute in Weimar, the favorite residence of Liszt, in fact, the roster for 1889 of the Grandducal music school in that city bears the names of only eight piano students, while the violin class is attended by seventy-five pupils, that of violoncello by eighteen, of flute by fifteen, of trumpet by sixteen, of counter bass by ten, and of singing by seven.

At W. A. Blumenschein's one hundred and sixth recital by his pupils, his gifted son, Ernest, played A. M. Forester's "Romanza," for violin. Mr. Blumenschein's success at Dayton, Ohio, seems constantly on the increase.

The celebrated French violinist, Alard, left at his decease, three very valuable violins; one, a Stradivarius, was sold for $8,000, another, a Stainer, was disposed of for $1,300, while the third, a priceless Giovanni Guarnerius, was bequeathed to the Paris Conservatory.

Brahms' new work, "Fest und Gedekensprüche," recently given with great success at Hamburg, under Von Bulow's direction, is a kind of triumphal ode in three parts, bearing on glorious events in the history of Germany; it is written for a double chorus of eight voices.
